

FirstService
RESIDENTIAL

Lifestyle

Out & About in New York City

Today marks the 19th anniversary of 9/11.

Our hearts go out to those affected by that solemn day, which we all will never forget.

Click here for details about this year's memorial in New York City.

This week's Lifestyle also includes local deals and experiences to help you make the most of these final days of summer.

Private Rooftop Lawns at 'The Greens'

- » The Rooftop at Pier 17 recently unveiled 'The Greens,' a new waterfront experience offering 28 private mini-lawns that overlook South Street Seaport. Each lawn measures 196 square feet and includes food service, lounge chairs, a beverage cooler, umbrellas and a phone charging station. Click here to make your reservation today.

A Picnic Package for Two from Tara Rose NYC

- » For an elevated picnic experience, stop by Tara Rose in Manhattan's Gramercy neighborhood for a romantic "Picnic Package for Two." Located just steps from Madison Square Park, the restaurant's picnic package includes three food items, a choice of beverages and plastic glasses. Read more from Pulsd New York.

Empire Outlets in Staten Island

- » The Staten Island Ferry is one of the best ways to get an up-close view of the Statue of Liberty, and is also the most direct route to Empire Outlets, New York City's first outlet shopping center. The waterfront esplanade surrounding the outdoor mall also offers sweeping views of the Downtown Manhattan skyline.

New York Historical Society Debuts Outdoor Art Exhibit

- » Hope Wanted is a new outdoor art exhibit from the New York Historical Society. The exhibit is located on West 76th Street between Central Park West and Columbus Avenue in Manhattan and is open to the public every Friday, Saturday and Sunday. While entry to the exhibition is free, guests are required to pre-register for a timed-entry ticket. Click here for tickets.